#930 OSHA Recordkeeping and Safety Management – Advanced

9 a.m. to 4 p.m. – Tuesday, March 27

This session will focus on the implementation of the OSHA recordkeeping standard as an element in the overall success of an employer's safety management program. The presenters will link recordkeeping trend analysis and the identification of system weaknesses to develop results-oriented objectives. The presenters will use accident scenarios to demonstrate the application of the rules of the standard with references to the National Emphasis Program. This session is designed for management staff. It's assumed you have an understanding of basic recordkeeping concepts. You will be able to identify recordkeeping methodologies; explain the effects of safety incentive programs on internal reporting practices; and describe the relationship between recordkeeping protocols and risk management.
