

#284 Be food safe: It's as simple as clean, separate, cook and chill – Basic
1:15 to 2:15 p.m. – Wednesday, March 30

How to build a food safety campaign that results in behavior change both at work and at home. Learn how to make the difficult food safety regulations a simple process for employees to embrace and understand. Empower your employees to do the right thing when it comes to making food safety decisions that are best for the company, the customer and the employee's family. You will be able to explain the four actions to food safety; and describe key components of an effective food safety behavior campaign for employees.

Developed by the Food Services committee

Presented by Bob Kramer, RS, director of food services and food safety, Economic and Community Development Institute, Columbus

Credits: 0.1 IACET; 1 CDMS; 1 Sanitarian

Notes:

Action items: